

Ka Haere Taatou Ki Te Kai

Let's Come Together To Share Kai

For our big learning we have been making kai and making up a big picture of planet Earth. We will use the picture to show different types of kai and where they come from. We are going to plant some seeds. When they have finished growing we might be able to share it with others. It is important to share kai with other people. Because some people in the world don't have much food. I like eating food with my classmates because it is fun.

By Orisi and Lucy

Kowhai syndicate have also been identifying the groups who make up the Woodstock community and in particular how it sources its food. The next step is to visit a variety of food sources, grow their own food and then create/design their own place that a community can source food – whether it be a food swap between classes or some kind of market place.

Kowhai Team